1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Finster et al 6,217,966 in view of Applicant's admitted prior art. Finster discloses an electronic price label with an electronic display 10A and a printed label 26 including an adhesive backing 18. When strip 14a is removed from the printed label, a window to view the electronic price label display 10a is exposed (col 6 lines 25-33). Finster discloses a push button 10d which is operable to affect the display 10a when depressed (col 4 lines 51-65). Finster does not disclose that the electronic price label is bistable. Applicant admits in the background of the invention that bistable-electronic price labels are known. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. This would effectively allow for conservation of power of the electronic price label and thus extend the usable lifetime of the power source inherent within the price label.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zimmerman et al 2004/0267699 discloses an electronic price label with a printed overlay.
